Earning From YouTube? The Tax Shift Nobody Warns You About W - printable checklist

Earning from YouTube in India? Google's US tax deadline, AdSense payout cut-offs and which ITR form to file — the rules, from the bodies that set them.

> Key things to remember
>
> YouTube Help says every monetizing creator in the Partner Program, anywhere in the world, must give Google US tax information — and if it isn't provided by December 10th, Google may deduct up to 24% of your total worldwide earnings, not just US earnings. Those tax forms expire at the end of the third full calendar year after signing, so a 'set it and forget it' creator can get hit years later. The Income Tax Department's guidance allows ITR-4 (SUGAM) only for residents with total income up to ₹50 lakh computing business or professional income presumptively under 44AD/44ADA/44AE; those who don't fit ITR-1, 2 or 4 file ITR-3.

- If a section 44AB audit applies to you, the department says Form 3CB-CD must be furnished at least one month before the return due date — so your CA needs the books much earlier than you think.

Your checklist

- [ ] The AdSense date that delays your money by a month
- [ ] Now the Indian side: which ITR form is yours?
- [ ] If an audit applies, your deadline is earlier than you think
- [ ] What to keep, and why the department can already see you
- [ ] What the current coverage is saying
- [ ] Do these four things this week
